Report of the Departmental Seminar, Department of Geography

18th and 19th November 2019

18th November, Theme of the Seminar : Global Warming: 2019—20?

19th November, Theme of the Seminar : Earthquake

Formally the departmental seminar started with the welcome and greetings to the Teacher-in-Charge and other distinguished Professors of different departments of course college by 11 AM sharp. By lightening the lamp we began the technical session. The technical session started with the introductory speech given by the Head of the Department, Ms. Anusree Kundu. The convenor and the Co-Convenor of the seminar, Mr. Majrul Sk and Dr. Rakibul Islam explained the importance of the seminar. All the students of the 1st and 3rd semester Geography honours had registered for the seminar. After that we invite the students one by one to deliver their brief talk on the topic that they had submitted earlier. Though most of the writings of the students were not that much standard to present, most of them presented their ideas and thoughts on the dice very boldly. The present judges gave their remarks and suggestions to each student after their talk. The students also enjoyed the atmosphere of the presentation, discussion, questioning and suggestions. First day we completed 3rd Semester students and on the next day completed 1st Semester students. Finally we had provided the certificates to all participating students. The Co-Ordinator of the seminar Mr. Md Abdul Ukil gave a vote of thanks and highlighted some important aspects of the seminar presentation which may justify the relevance of the seminar's theme.

OBJECTIVES:

- Marks of Internal Exam will be given based on the quality of writing and who will give presentation in the seminar.
- Increase of Public Speaking, Confidence boosting, soft skill development,
- They can learn as part of experimental learning.

PROGRAM OUTCOME:

- The program outcome for marks in the internal exam will be determined by both the quality of writing and the presentation given in the seminar. Both aspects will likely be evaluated to ensure a comprehensive assessment of the students' understanding and communication skills.
- The program outcome for increasing public speaking, boosting confidence, and developing soft skills would likely involve assessing improvements in communication abilities, self-assurance in public settings, and overall interpersonal skills. This could be measured through various means such as feedback from peers and mentors, self-assessments, and performance evaluations in real-life situations.
- The program outcome of incorporating experimental learning could involve fostering critical thinking, problem-solving skills, and adaptability through hands-on experiences. Students may demonstrate their learning through applying theoretical knowledge to practical scenarios, reflecting on their experiences, and showing an increased ability to learn from trial and error.

That is, all the mentioned objectives have been fulfilled.
