Report of the Departmental Seminar,

Dept. of Political Science

8th November, 2019

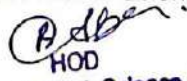

Theme of the seminar: "Kautilya's Saptanga Theory and Relevance of Present Day"

Formally the departmental seminar started with the welcome speech and greetings to the Teacher-in-charge and other distinguished professors of different departments of our college by 11 am sharp. By the lightening of the lamp, we began the technical session that started with the introductory speech, given by the Head of the Department and organizing secretary, Sri. Bishnu Dev Das. The seminar Convener very lucidly explained the importance of the seminar. All the Honors students of 1st and 3rd semester and 3rd year registered for the seminar. After that one by one we invite the students to deliver their brief talk on the topic that they have submitted earlier. Though, most of the writings of the students were not that much standard to present, however, most of them present their ideas and thoughts on the dice very boldly. The present judges Tawsif Ahmed, Rakesh Chorabarty and Dhannanjay Mahato (Assignment professor, dept of philosophy) give their valuable remarks and suggestions to each student after their paper presentation. The students also enjoyed the atmosphere of the seminar, discussion, questioning and suggestions. Finally, we provide the certificates to all participated students. The coordinator Kabari Das of the Seminar gives a vote of thanks and highlights some important aspects of the seminar presentation which may justify the relevance of the seminar's theme.

Bishnu Dev Das.
