REPORT

MURSHIDABAD ADARSHA MAHAVIDYALAYA

Department Of Bengali

Departmental Tour (03.12.2022)

The Head of Bengali Department, Prof. Smt. Moushumi Singh Mahashya organized a meeting with the students and teachers on 14.11.2022 date to honor the wishes of the fifth semester students. In that meeting it was decided that on 03/12/2022 some professors of the department along with the students who wish to go on an educational trip will leave early morning for Santiniketan which is famous for Rabindranath Tagore. In the early morning of that day, the students boarded the bus from the college campus under the supervision of Prof. Tarun Samui and Prof. Pranati Chattopadhyay. Professor Moushumi Singh, Prof. Prasenjit Dey and Prof. Partha Das took the bus from Baharampur with tiffin material. The bus left Baharampur for Shantiniketan around 6-00 am amidst the cheering noise of students hanging festoons 'Murshidabad Adarsh Mahavidyalaya, BanglaBibhag, Islampur, Murshidabad'. Within moments, the interior of the bus turned into a cultural center. Kuheli Sarkar, Tithi Sarkar, Sudeshna Dutta, Merina Khatun, Antara Azmi, Mahamuda Khatun, Pramita Ghosh opened their hearts and sang in unison 'Gram chara oi ranga matir path/ Amar mon bhulaye re'. One Rabindra Sangeet after another in the Antyakshari game--- students as well as professors were enthralled. A little break after an hour and a half bus ride; After getting cleaned up in a hotel washroom and getting on the bus, after taking tiffin under the instruction of Prof. Tarun Samui, the students burst into laughter and stories among themselves. The bus reached the destination by 10-30 am. The professors took the students to various places of interest with the help of local toto drivers. Mr. Biswajit Halder Mahashya, Professor of Economics Department of Biswa Bharati University, took on the role of guide that day, responding to the call of our educational institution. He said, Santiniketan is a neighborhood near Bolpur town of Birbhum district and it was founded by Maharishi Devendranath Tagore. His son Rabindranath Tagore tried to develop the area and later he established the Visva Bharati University here and attracted world attention. He also told the history of the two-storied house named 'Shantiniketan Bhavan' in a beautiful sentence. It was heard from him that the Maharshi had constructed this building in 1864 AD, as a replica of Jorasanko Tagore House. The quote from Maharishi's favorite Upanishad, 'Satyatma Pranaramang Man Anandang', engraved on the top wall of the house still shines. Biswakobi lived in this house for a while of his teenage on his way to the Himalayas with his father and while setting up the Brahmacharya Vidyalaya. Professor Halder was appreciative of the artistic appeal of the abstract sculpture 'Anirban Shikha' made in Ramkinkar Beige in front of the house. Next note 'Chatimatala'. There is not much to see here, but if you listen to the story and see with your mind's eye, you will understand the importance of 'Chatimatla'. When the Maharshi was coming to protect the zamindar of Raipur, he rested for a while under the two huge Chatim trees here, and an eternal blissful tranquility filled his soul. He bought 20 bighas of land at 16 annas from the zamindar. Those two Chatim trees are no more, instead two new Chatim trees have been planted there. There is an altar where the 7th Paush is worshiped every year on the path shown by the Maharish. The name of Rabindranath Tagore's elder brother Dwijendranath Tagore is associated with the 'Glass Temple'. He is the one who gave the beauty to this colored glass house. In this room, on Wednesday, the foundation day of the Brahma Samaj, worship is still going on. People of any religion can participate in this worship. What can be such a good sign of union! Professor Halder continued to say. As we listened to him, we appeared in front of a very beautiful circular mud house. It has been built with amazing artistic skill on the theme of the palm tree behind the house. The house came to be known as 'Taldhwaj' because the palm tree leaves at the back beautified the house like a 'Dhwaj'. This is the feat of an ashromik named Tejaschandra Sen. On the eastern side of the house of worship is the shaded area 'Tinpahar' with huge banyan trees. And the garden on the south side of Santiniketan Building is known as 'Amrakunja'. After winning the Nobel Prize, he was felicitated in this place. 'Shyamoli' is a house whose walls and roof are made of mud. The walls are decorated with paintings by the students of Kalabhavan. At the entrance of this house there is one of the best statues of the world famous artist Sri Ramkinkar Bej Mahashay 'Santal-Santalni'. 'Bichitra' also known as 'Rabindra Bhavan' is a visual spectacle of clothes used by Rabindranath, writing pens, voluminous manuscripts, letters, numerous gift items, replicas of Nobel medal. Time flew by them. Having lunch at the hotel arranged by Prof. Biswajit Halder and listening to the music of Baul artists at Sonajhudi Hut adjacent to the hotel is an extraordinary experience. Finally it's time to go back. We boarded the bus after saying our sincere thanks, gratitude and farewell to Prof. Biswajit Halder sir. After talking for a while, almost everyone fell asleep. The bus reached the college gate around ten o'clock at night. Arrangements for dinner and overnight stay were made in advance. After spending the night in the college rooms, the students returned home in the morning. After seven days, on a certain day, they wrote about their experience and submitted it to the head of the department.

1. The tiredness of the monotonous life was removed and the heart became calm.
2. Beyond the syllabus-based and class-based learning management, one could experience firsthand the rich knowledge that is possible through travel.
3. All the unnecessary apprehensions of the students were dispelled by the joyful excitement of the trip. Their eternal human heart appeared in a spring-like spontaneity and moistened their minds. As a result, their confidence increased.
4. The student-teacher relationship became sweeter and stronger.
5. Not the Rabindranath of the syllabus; Rabindranath Tagore was reflected in their consciousness as a complete human being.
