Knowing the Place Historically

Motijheel Park holds historical importance as it was part of the palace grounds of Nawab Siraj-ud-Daulah, the first independent Nawab of Bengal before British rule. The area around the Motijheel lake served as his residence, and the nearby grounds witnessed several key events in the early British colonial journey. Motijheel, the cradle of British rule in India, stands witness to a remarkable turning point in Indian history. A 350-acre oxbow lake formed out of an abandoned bed of river Bhagirathi, the Motijheel, derived its name from extensive pearl cultivation during the Nawabi period. The jheel was famous for raising golden tinted pearls extracted from union margaritifera species.

Importance & Outcome of the Trip:

As we are the students of department of Philosophy(Humanities), it was a golden opportunity for the students that they can unite themselves physically with the natural beauty of Motijheel park through the departmental trip held on 27/01/2020. The students witnessed a very serene and peaceful atmosphere. This trip seems to be very necessary for a healthy life than the monotonous urban area. From this trip, students were able to learn how to handle the pressure of a journey in a larger group to an unknown place and an unknown situation. The place is actually an abode of heavenly beauty which mesmerised us immensely. It teaches us how to protect nature and preserve it. The trip was very enjoyable for the students and the teachers.
