ABOUT THE INSTITUTION

As we all know that, the education is the initiation of self-revelation. It gives scope for creativity and acts as a bridge between the external world around us and innerworld we carry within our body, mind and soul. As a wing of higher education our college begin to take off in 1981 to spread the light of quality education among the marginalized section of South-Eastern part of Murshidabad. This institution, since its inception, has mainly been serving the rural learners who come from various remote unprivileged and underdeveloped areas. Around two-thousand students of different rank get enrolled each year in the college. The vast departmental wings of Arts and Humanities of the College provide ample scope to the students to integrate the needs of individual as well as society in order to create a new generation of value-based youths. In this way, our college aims to be the beacon of hope for the marginal areas that will shower the light of education amongst all strata of society. Thus, let us pierce the dark veil of ignorance and remove illiteracy and poverty and truly prove to be a vehicle of modernization and development.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR'S THEME

Philosophy and Education, as the two academic disciplines, are very closely related to each other. A philosopher being a lover of wisdom, a constant seeker after the ultimate realities of the universe possesses high ideals, morals, and spiritual values, which he propagates through the medium of education. In this sense, it is philosophy that determines the directions and aims of education. Educational techniques in almost every country and in every age are influenced by the philosophy of that particular country and that particular age. The philosophy, for example, propounded by the great Rishis and Munis controlled the concepts and aims of education in ancient India. Hence a study of a dominant philosophy of a particular time is very helpful in understanding the practices and trends of education system of that time. The forthcoming seminar is concerned to focus on the educational bearings of the different philosophical perspectives in the human society from the ancient times to the present day.
