Instead of relying only on poetic style, Bengali introduced logic by giving importance to the everydayness of prose style--- that writing helped the students to expand their knowledge and increase their self-confidence. Besides, the scientific approach to the evolution of Bengali language

BNG-H-CC-T- 11 BNG-G-LCC-T- 01	Uponnyas	The birth of the Bengali novel is in the 19th century. A novel is born, when a piece of literature is created that leaves a mark on the reader's mind with a large scale, with great realism, by inserting small and large incidents, erecting one character as the main character and creating different characters as needed. From the 19th century to the present day, countless novels of different tastes have been written that incorporate different perspectives. There are different types of Novels, such as Social novel, Political novel, Regional novel, Historical novel, Detective novel etc. Reality is the soul of a novel. The novelist often takes recourse to imagination to give reality and that reality a more realistic form, but he has to be careful not to overshadow reality. Bengali novel began its journey with Bankim chandra Chattopadhyay. From Rabindranath Tagore,

		Bhraman Kahini : Reading literature is not just for acquiring knowledge. One of the purposes of reading literature is to gain pleasure through the perception of rasa. There are two benefits to reading travel stories. By reading travel stories, students can learn about the places described, descriptions of journeys, natural surroundings, places to visit, etc. However, this knowledge is not knowledge by reading history, but in this knowledge there is a taste of form, taste and feeling. Inclusion in the syllabus to give students a taste of that.
